

AdoptASchool Sponsorship Statistics 2003 - June 2018

Originally a bridging programme was set up to keep children in school following the Bali bombing 2002 and the subsequent loss of jobs and income for parents at one of our sister schools. As time went on, many of these parents gained work as things returned to normal in the tourist industry in Bali and the children were no longer eligible for sponsorship. Some of the children remained on the programme and have gone on to high school and even university graduation. Currently all the children on the programme meet the strict criteria for sponsorship.

Local W.A. schools provided sponsorships to their sister schools in the early days but since 2011 records were centralised, the sponsorship coordinator's position was created. From inception until June 2018, records show as follow

Students exited for various reasons (eg families moving to other areas for work, farming land sold to developers in poor growing areas, families requiring physical assistance at home, seaweed farming and rice growing, informed grandparents, accident and injuries, placed in orphanages or disabled schools, receiving full Government Scholarships and exited to other agencies).	190
Students exited in years 1-11 no longer eligible – parents now employed	194
Graduated in year 12	81
